Lyme Computer Systems, Inc. Deploys New Website

Lyme, NH based Lyme Computer Systems, Inc., a national technology solution provider, has announced it has deployed a new corporate website.

Lyme Computer Systems, Inc. partnered with StructuredWeb to develop and deploy a new corporate website. StructuredWeb is a channel marketing firm that has provided global companies, hardware OEMs, software providers and technology resellers with innovative and collaborative solutions that increase marketing ROI, maximize partner performance and drive results for channel programs.

“Lyme Computer Systems, Inc. is pleased to be working with StructuredWeb on our new website. Their platform allows Lyme to engage with our customers in ways that we were not able to with our old website. We look forward to leveraging advanced capabilities that seamlessly tie into our OEM partners as well as social media and networking platforms.” said Josh Longacre, Vice President of Sales and Operations of Lyme Computer Systems.
